Usually the curriculum of each course consists of two semesters. They are completed by passing exams on the disciplines passed.

When it was not possible to agree on the session during the session, the following happens:

1. A student who has duty, refers to the dean with a written promise to correct the situation and reevaluate the test or exam before a specific date.
2. Dean's order approves a schedule for relocation.
3. At best, all the twos are fixed.
4. At worst, the debtor again pours exams or simply misses them because not ready again. Then it is really worth afraid of deductions, especially if you failed to pass more than 2 exams.

If you do not pass the winter session, it will have to reassemble during the next semester. Close the "tailings" in the summer is more difficult, as in the administration and teachers comes season of vacation.

In this case, there will be a big chance to remain not credited to the next course.

Sad, but quite justified measure is the deduction in cases:

- when the session is not handed over against the background of systematic absenteeism;
- unsatisfactory estimates for three and more disciplines;
- Disabled to exams without good reason.

In public educational institutions with budget places, the collapse of the sophistication sessions usually leads to a loss of free space. Depending on the severity of the offense, the translation is possible on the paid basis. Sometimes it becomes perfect options to avoid deductions.

For what students can deduct?

It is more difficult when you pay a valid or potential employer. Usually, organizations tear the contract with a poor student. Usually, the conditions of such contracts contain the requirement for the return of the already produced payment.

Options solving the problem

The effective way is to maintain close contact with the learning part. It is necessary to inform about valid reasons in a timely manner, preferably in writing.

In the dean, they will find the ability to change the session schedule or prohibit a student with another stream. When the disease, the other situation is delayed, in the study part will help with the design of academic leave.

Much depends on hard work and desire to learn. You can always agree on admission to the session if part of the debts are successfully closed. The correct step will be an application addressed to the head of the faculty.

In the appeal, specify specific deadlines for the provision of other detainees.

At the paid faculties, it is strictly suitable for payment debtors. With temporary material difficulties, it is worth contacting the delay of the payment. Commercial institutions and colleges are unprofitable to lose students, and they allow installments.

If the session is not handed over, and the order of deductions is prepared, it is necessary to prepare hard and include the art of negotiation. You have to convince the teacher to meet the day when he is not obliged to do this.

The main thing is to remember - it is impossible to appear on reducing without the preparation and study of the required material.

Consequences for students

Each case is individual. In educational institutions their methods to combat the abominability.

Somewhere belongs to the breakdowns of the deadlines and dukes loyalty, but most often the result of the wrong session can be the following unpleasant consequences:

- intense morally and physically retirement;
- breaking further plans;
- reduction of the quality of current training due to abandonment for the delivery of "tails";
- Loss of the budget place;
- the employer's refusal to comply with contractual obligations in terms of compensation for the cost of training;
- inclusion of penalties;

- Execution and as a result of spent time and money.

The decision on the deduction is the most undesirable result.

It can be avoided under the condition:

- compliance with the charter and local acts of the educational institution;
- conscientious attitude towards the educational process and attendance;
- Promptivity when solving arising problems.

It is also important to know their rights and obligations to resist unauthorized actions of the administration. Of course, it is a rarity, but being aware is always useful. A student who intends to continue learning will definitely take all measures to recover.

Conclusion: Visit classes, get ready for credit, pass the course and project work in a timely manner, do not miss the practice. No one puts the goals to exclude the student for the failure exams.
